If you have an eligible NIH grant (e.g. R01, P20/30/50/60, U54, R34) you may apply for sources of supplemental funding offered by the NIH. Join us for a workshop on NIH Diversity Supplements, a funding initiative to increase diversity in the research workforce by providing training, mentorship and career development opportunities to individuals who are underrepresented in biomedical, behavioral, clinical, social and basic sciences. This workshop will be led by Dr. Guillermo "Willy" Prado, Miller Professor of Public Health Sciences and Dean of the Graduate School.
